Counting Excess Symptoms in 2021

Next I used Tom Renz data to count excess symptoms in 2021 compared to each of the previous 5 years

Renz looked specifically at

- Cancer
- Cardiac and Blood disorders
- Demyelination (nerve destruction)
- Infertility and reproductive dysfunction

Cancer (Excess = 74,000)

| Diagnosis | Query Date | 2016 | 2017 | 2018 | 2019 | 2020 | Total 2016 to 2020 | 2021 (Partial) |
|-------------------------|------------|--------|--------|--------|--------|--------|--------------------|----------------|
| Neoplasms (ALL CANCERS) | 1/19/2022 | 41,557 | 39,139 | 37,756 | 38,889 | 36,050 | 193,391 | 114,645 |

Nervous (Excess = 780,000)

| Diagnosis | Query Date | 2016 | 2017 | 2018 | 2019 | 2020 | Total 2016 to 2020 | 2021 (Partial) |

Results

- excess cancer alone effected 3.5% of the entire military population
- excess diseases of the nervous system effected 37% of the entire military population
- excess cardiac and blood disorders effected 4.1% of the entire military population

Given that some of these symptoms may overlap with some people suffering more than one symptom, it is conservative to say that 5% of the entire military force has just been taken out by cancer and cardiac alone.

Up to one third may have been weakened by diseases of the nervous system – the majority of which involve destruction of the myelin sheath surrounding nerve fibers.
